D.U. Hoe Down Friday Opener Of Houseparty

Weekend To Include Baseball And Track, ADP's Beer Party

Hamilton's 1950 Spring Houseparty next weekend will be highlighted by an all-college Barn dance, a series of athletic events and the semi-formal fraternity dances Saturday night.

Sponsored by Delta Upsilon, the Barn dance is open to the entire college community and will be held in Knoxboro, Friday evening.

Saturday afternoon's athletic contests will include a track meet with Middlebury and a tennis match, baseball game and golf match, all against Rochester.

Alpha Delta Phi has tentatively scheduled an all-college Beer party on the house lawn for Sunday afternoon. It is expected that the Fallacious Five will play at this event.

In addition to the Barn dance, some of the fraternities are planning open parties for Friday night. The TKE's are asking everyone attending their party to dress up as their favorite comic strip character. A skit will be presented on that theme Friday night.

Those who attend Squires' Shipwreck party will come in old clothes and will spend the evening around the newly built fireplace behind the house. A hayride is also being planned for Friday night by Squires. Sigma Phi has also tentatively scheduled a hayride for Friday.

Picnic lunches Saturday afternoon will be held by Theta Delta Chi, Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Upsilon.

Following the athletic contests Saturday afternoon, most of the fraternities will have cocktail parties.

Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Upsilon will team up for their dance which will be held at the Alpha Delt house. For their Saturday night dance, Squires and Alpha Chi will join with ELS.

SCA Scholarship Money Obtained By Movie Series

A $100 scholarship has been made available by the Student Christian Association's receipts from this year's movie series, it was announced in Wednesday meeting last week.

The SCA contribution will be matched by another $100 from the college's scholarship fund. The award will be made to a student selected by Mr. Bennett and a representative of the SCA on the basis of need.

It is possible that the award will be made to one man for his entire four years, if need warrants that step, SCA President Quentin Knauer announced. He went on to add that the SCA hopes that the amount can be raised in the future, and that the college has agreed to match whatever can be obtained through the movie series.

'Fallacious Five' Heard Over WIBX

"The Fallacious Five," Jim Collier, John Fell, Wally Alprin, Pete Zeeveld, Myron Beldock, and Bob Krompart, were heard on the "Hamilton College On The Air" program last Wednesday, with Bob Stern as announcer. Members of the outfit discussed the origins of Dixieland jazz from the brass bands of New Orleans to the streamlined combinations of today.

Collier described the three forms of Dixieland music, spiritual, march, and ragtime. The "Daily Rag" was played as an

Open Letter To Dr. McEwen

Dear Dr. McEwen:

Hamilton College's poor record in intercollegiate athletics is one of the chief problems with which you have been confronted since your arrival on the Hill last year.

During your administration many changes have been made in Hamilton's policy toward athletics. You said last year that for five years Hamilton would emphasize football and hockey, and since then this program has been partially put into effect. Efforts to attract athletes to this college have been greatly increased, and they bore notable results this year, particularly in football. The scholarship requirements have been revised, making it easier for students to receive college grants-in-aid.

Taking a Dangerous Path

But, after a long study of the intercollegiate sports scene as it affects Hamilton, The Spectator is convinced that we are taking a dangerous path. Our efforts have all been directed in following the lead of most of our opponents, and attempting to "sell" Hamilton to the promising athlete by persuasive and financial means. Some of our alumni have taken up the cause, and a misguided few have suggested programs which are utterly fantastic in their absurdity.

A strong feeling exists in many quarters that it is impossible for Hamilton to persuade the athlete who is also an outstanding scholar to matriculate here unless we increase the maximum amount given in scholarships. A short look at the college's budget will reveal that such a move is now impossible.

Therefore, in view of these facts, The Spectator suggests that Hamilton confine its sports endeavors to playing colleges who do not subsidize, rather than risk the lowering of our educational standards through our own subsidization.

Hamilton Must Establish League

Is this within the realm of possibility? We think it is. We realize that, at this time, it would be impossible to fill our schedules with teams that are completely uncommercialized. However, this is where you come in, Dr. McEwen. It is our conclusion that the only long range solution to Hamilton's perennial athletic problem is for you to call a conference of the presidents and athletic directors of colleges with the same educational standards as Hamilton's, to discuss setting up a league of schools where scholarships and aid are given primarily on the basis of need and scholastic achievement.

Then, if you were successful, Hamilton could confine herself, particularly in football and basketball, to competition with these colleges. In this connection it is interesting to note that in the sports not generally subsidized, soccer, skiing, baseball, golf and tennis, Hamilton maintains a very respectable record.

A Chance To Show Our Colors

Is this merely a flight of fancy or a dream on our part? Perhaps. But we will never know until this plan is given a chance to succeed. Literally hundreds of quotations can be found in which leading educators condemn subsidization of athletics, but with a very few exceptions, none of these men have had the courage to turn these complaints into action. Here is a chance for Hamilton, a college devoted in your own words "to developing leaders of a free society," to take the lead in a project which nearly everyone connected with higher education says they want. Moreover, we can think now of three or four schools who quite possibly would be very eager to join us.

Hamilton tried a plan similar to this once before, but it died practically before birth because of a lack of support on the part of this college's administration. And this plan, which we have suggested, if it is ever to be realized in fact, must be arranged on a top administrative level by men who believe in purely amateur athletics.

Many Benefits from Athletics

Please don't get us wrong! We want as much as anyone to see Hamilton College win games on the athletic field. It is generally agreed by most experts, both in the fields of education and sport, that there are many

Topic For McKinney Debate Is Revealed

The topic "Resolved: Communists should be barred from teaching in colleges and universities" will be the issue debated in the McKinney Prize Debate on May 10 in the chapel.

Murray Drabkin and Christopher Beebe will uphold the affirmative, while Arnold Lerman and John Davis will present the negative viewpoint.

The debate will be held at 8:15, immediately following the annual dinner of the debate club at the Alexander Hamilton Inn.

Debaters Win; End Season This Weekend

Last Saturday, the Hill was the scene of a Junior Varsity Debate Tournament sponsored by the Debate Club. New Palz, Cortland, Keuka, Hobart, and Hamilton each were represented.

Hamilton emerged the victor, winning 10 of their 13 debates. Hobart was a distant second winning half. Debating for Hamilton were Ted Beckwith and Carl Peterson, Don Webster and Connie Ring, Bob and Louis Contiguglia, Bruce Bowen and John Drews, and Bob Fleissner and Dan Gray.

On Tuesday two Varsity teams from Oswego won out over the Hamilton teams of Ted Beckwith and Carl Peterson, and Bruce Bowen and John Drews in debates held at Hamilton, but the Hamilton teams of Stu Robinson and Pete Singer, and Frank Jewell and Carl Peterson, came back to defeat Hobart teams on Wednesday afternoon.

Two Hamilton teams left for Central Massachusetts Thursday to debate the national topic, "Should The United States Nationalize The Basic Non-Agricultural Industries?" They are Stu Robinson and Pete Singer, affirmative, and Frank Jewell and Carl Peterson, negative. Their schedule includes debates with M. I. T., Northeastern, Amherst, and American Inter-National.

Leaving today for Williams College to debate the topic "Resolved That Euthensia Be Legalized" were Bill Schwarz and Addie Keeler, affirmative, and Bill Wehmeyer and Simon Ohanessian, negative.

The final home debate will be held at Hamilton tomorrow afternoon against Rutgers.

Pi Delta Epsilon Elects Gere, Rudd, Thirteen Students

Thirteen students and two members of the faculty were elected to Pi Delta Epsilon, the national honorary journalistic society, this week, Dean Alfange, Phi Delt Chairman, announced in Wednesday assembly.

Professor Robert B. Rudd was honored for his work as advisor to the Continental, while Associate Professor Brewster H. Gere received the award as advisor to the Hamiltonian.

The students chosen were Robert F. Brown, of the Royal Gaboon and Spectator; Charles Davis, of the Continental; Phil Evans, chairman of the Publications Board; Green Fenley, of the Hamiltonian; Don Gardner, of the Hamiltonian and Spectator; and Bill Hutchison, of the Royal Gaboon and Spectator.

Arnold Klein was elected for his work with the Continental; Robert R. Larsen, also of the Continental; Stu McKeldin, of the Royal Gaboon and the Spectator; John McMillan of the Spectator; Bill Schwarz, of the Hamiltonian, Royal Gaboon and the Spectator; Bob Tillman, for the Spectator and his work with the Press Board; and Morgan Underwood, of the Continental.

Tolles Announces Revisions In Next Year's Curriculum; 9 Departments Are Affected

Rutgers' Head Coach Harman To Speak At Block 'H' Dinner

Head Coach Harvey Harman of Rutgers University will be the guest speaker at the annual Block "H" dinner to be held Monday night at 7 p. m. at the Twin Ponds Country Club, Utica.

Dean Winton Tolles will be the toastmaster at the banquet which will also be highlighted by the presentation of the Fowler Award in football, the Sellers Award in hockey, and the Hiler Award in basketball.

All are given to the player who, in the estimation of the players and coach, was of the greatest vaule to the squad. The player's value is based on attendance, cooperation with the coach and with the squad, attitude, improvement, and playing ability as a factor in whatever success the team had.

In addition to the awards, each coach of a Varsity sport of the winter season will announce the letter winners in that sport.

Ex-Harverford Coach

Coach Harman, the feature speaker, graduated from the University of Pittsburg in the days of the renowned Panther coach, "Pop" Warner. Following graduation, Mr. Harman coached at Haverford, some of his teams playing Hamilton; he then moved to the University of Mississippi.

From "Ole Miss," Coach Harman came to the University of Pennsylvania where he coached several Ivy League champions and some of the strongest teams in the Quakers' history. While at Penn, he molded the "Destiny Backfield."

48-13 Record

In 1938, he moved across the Delaware River to Rutgers. His football team that year defeated Princeton for the first time since 1886 by a score of 20-18. His all-time record of 48 wins and 13 losses testifies to his ability as a coach.

During the war, Mr. Harman was Commander-in-Charge of the Iowa Pre-Flight School and later saw carrier duty in the Pacific aboard the "Bon Homme Richard."

After the war upon his return to Rutgers, Coach Harman switched from his pre-war single wing alignment to the T-formation and continued to add victories to his record. In 1948, he was elected President of the National Coaches' Association for 1984-49.

Football Coach Don Jones of Hamilton played under Coach Harman at Rutgers, and returned to his Alma Mater to be Freshman Coach in 1948.

Doctor Schroeder, Of Yale University, Speaks This Sun.

Dr. John Charles Schroeder, Chairman of the Religion Department at Yale University, will speak at Sunday evening's Chapel service.

Born in New York City, Reverend Schroeder received his Bachelor of Science degree from C. C. N. Y. in 1917. He then began studying at Columbia but joined the American Red Cross a year later and was sent to France.

Two years after the war had ended Reverend Schroeder earned a B. D. from Union Theological Seminary and was ordained a minister in the Congregational Church.

In 1933, he was honored with a Doctor of Divinity degree from Bowdoin and a year later received an LL.D. at the University of Maine. In 1948, Ripon College in Wisconsin presented him with a doctorate of Sacred Theology.

From 1937 until 1946, Reverend Schroeder was a professor of homiletics and pastoral theology at Yale. In the latter year, he became chairman of the Department of Religion.

Author as well as professor and preacher, Reverend Schroeder has written The Task of Religion and Modern Man and the Cross. A member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, Dr. Schroeder also belongs to the Faculty Club in New Haven and the Yale Club in New York.

Gere Named Head Of Math. Dept.

Associate Professor Brewster H. Gere has been named chairman of the Department of Mathematics to succeed Boyd C. Patterson, who resigned recently to become president of Washington & Jefferson College, President Robert W. McEwen announced yesterday.

Richard C. Clelland, a member of Hamilton's Class of 1944, will be added to the math department next year. He received his master's degree from Columbia in June and is now doing more work at the university.

John P. VanAlstyne will complete the three-man department.

Frosh, Sophs Play May Baseball Tilt

With a keg of beer on the third base as an added incentive to good playing, the Freshman Class will challenge the Sophs to a softball game on the Theta Delt field, May 20.

According to a report of the Freshman Committee, the game will serve as the Freshman party, approved by the class last March. The keg of beer provided by the Freshmen, will supply refreshments to everyone able to reach third base.

An All-Star Freshman team chosen by Tim Hyde, Pete Constable, Phil Skaer and Richard Smalley, will meet the Sophomores who are under the direction of Rod Gander.

In case of rain that afternoon, the game will be cancelled and a ber party held at a fraternity house after the Charlatans' play that evening.

There will be a meeting of the Senior Class at 9:30 tonight in the Psi U house. All Seniors are urged to attend by Class President Ace Lawrence.

Speech 3-4 Out; Schoen To Offer Psych. Seminar

By Greg Drummond

Several important curricular changes for the academic year 1950-51 were announced this week by Dean Winton S. Tolles, Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Studies.

The departments affected by the changes are Economics, Anthropology, German, Spanish, Mathematics, Psychology, Public Speaking, and Political Science. A new course in Social Science will also be offered.

The catalogue description of the course in Social Science says in part, "A survey of current economic, political, and social organization throughout the world; a study of the evolution of institutions and of theories of social change." The course, which will be open to 15 freshmen next year, will be taught by Mr. Gambs and several other members of the faculty.

BULLETIN

It was announced today by President Robert W. McEwen that Ambassador - at - Large Philip C. Jessup, '19, will be the principal speaker at the June Commencement. Dr. Jessup, who is a member of the Board of Trustees, received an honorary L.L.D. in 1937 for his two-volume biography of the late Honorable Elihu Root, '64.

Terminal Math Course

Another new development in the curriculum is a course entitled "Terminal Course in Mathematics." This course, which will become Math 1-2 C, is described as "A study of selected problems to provide experience in the use of mathematical methods." The course will not serve as a prerequisite for any other course in the department, nor will it count toward a major in Math.

President Robert W. McEwen, in commenting on these two new courses, said, "They should be instrumental in achieving the objectives outlined in a report submitted by the Committee on Studies to the Faculty."

The Political Science Department is most affected by the changes. Poli Sci 3-4, 7-8 as now constituted, and 21-22 are to be withdrawn from the curriculum, although the material taught in 3-4 at the present time will be incorporated in part into the new Poli Sci introductory course.

Contemporary Governments

The new 1-2 course will now be entitled "Contemporary Systems of Government," and will be "an examination of the political process as it operates today, primarily in the leading variants of the democracies." Another alteration in the Department is the changing of the course on the Soviet Union from a two-semester course to a one-sesmester course. The new 7-8 course will be in Political Parties and Public Opinion, "a study in the working of American politics."

Public Speaking 3-4 will no longer be offered, and Public Speaking 1-2 will be greatly altered for next year. The chief changes in the 1-2 course are that it will be given twice a week instead of only once, although it will still only receive one hour of credit, and that the work of the course will be integrated as far as possible with the work of the freshmen in Social Studies and English Composition.

Changes in German Dept.

The German Department will undergo several changes next year. Scientific German, the present 5-6 course, will be withdrawn permanently, and the

A Hamilton Crusade . . .

The Open Letter on Athletics which appears on page one is the product of more than two months' deliberation by the Spectator. While it represents the thought of all the editors, John McMillan of the Sports Department took as his responsibility the gathering and organizing of facts and we want to take this opportunity to cite his diligent, perservering and thoughtful service. For the past weeks his work has involved interviewing, reviewing statistics and reports; sifting and sorting and weighing this mass of facts; writing and rewriting his conclusions, only to be confronted with countless questions and objections which had to be dismissed before further progress could be made. Should Hamilton drop intercollegiate athletics, or do athletics have an integral place in the Hamilton plan? How important is it that we win? Is the athletic program an accessory to a liberal education, or is a liberal education an incidental accessory to the athletic program? And should Hamilton throw to the winds "its primary purpose—the intellectual training of its students" and go out with bribes after men whose first interest is heaving a football? Can we be "pure" and still have a successful, effective athletic program? Through a maze of obstacles such as these we have found a straight and decisive path. It leads, we believe, to a consistent, satisfying and thoroughly honest solution to Hamilton's athletic situation. We earnestly solicit the thoughtful attention of Dr. McEwen and all others in a position to lead a Hamilton crusade to keep athletics where they belong.

Curriculum . . .

It is gratifying to note that the report of the Committee on Studies, setting forth the objectives of a Hamilton education, has been promptly and decisively implemented by changes which all seem to be in the direction of maintaining vitality in Hamilton's program.

Elections . . .

We urge that the statements which have been received from Council candidates be guideposts in a contest of ideas and ideals, and that the coming elections be something more than personality polls or meaningless adherence to fraternity loyalty.

Congratulations And Thanks . . .

To the S.C.A. on its contribution of good movie entertainment to the Hill, and on its recent establishment of a scholarship from the profits made on the showings.

To Hamilton's ubiquitous Debating Society on winding up a most successful season during which Hamilton has been very creditably represented against the best schools in the east.

physical and moral benefits to be derived from athletics when a team has a fifty-fifty chance of winning most of its games. These experts also agree that these benefits are lost not only when a team loses most of its games as Hamilton has for the past three years, but also when the athletes are being paid for their services.

It is our contention that Hamilton should realize that athletics are important, but probably no more important than many other extracurricular activities and certainly less vital to the college than the maintenance of a high scholastic standing. Both the studies of the University of Chicago and the Carnegie Foundation are agreed that the effects of athletic competition on a man's contribution to society after college are much less significant than the achievement of high scholastic average while in school.

In order to keep athletics at Hamilton in their proper place and in order to assure Hamilton of many of the good qualities which can be obtained from unsubsidized athletics, The Spectator respectfully recommends that you seriously consider the proposal to form a league of colleges where athletics are played for recreation alone, and that you take the initiative in attempting to establish such an organization.

Sincerely,
The Spectator

Letter To The Editor

Clinton, New York
April 25, 1950

To the Spectator,

Certainly there is a need today for an honest and straightforward approach to our many campus problems. I question whether or not the manner in which the Spectator endeavors to improve is necessarily the best.

The last issue of the Spectator ran an editorial on the choir of pre-war days, and although I do not mean to spend time refuting the facts used in that editorial, I do want to say enough to create in the minds of the student body a more accurate picture of the 'old' choir in an effort to carry out the policy of honesty which I carefully stated above, and to help dispel a myth and foster student interest in our choral groups.

The 'old' choir did not make a yearly appearance in New York's Town Hall. It sang there twice. Various concerts were given in New York at the Plymouth, Booth and Guild theatres, and at the Jade Room of the Waldorf. Each one of these concerts had the person of Woollcott behind it, and according to those with whom I have spoken it was primarily Woollcott who made these concerts possible. They were rarely a financial success and in order to help pay for these appearances Woollcott would turn over whatever sum he received for his own appearance. Even when hen and Fancher bought up the tickets and gave them away the audiences were frequently sparse.

According to a past manager who has worked closely with the choir for a number of years, the invitations for concerts did not come with the ease suggested in the Spectator. The point it that concerts were no more easily arranged then than now. The expense of a New York trip has tripled since pre-war days—including hotels and food—and this in itself is sufficient to keep our choir on the Hill.

The present choir is as good as the 'old' choir.

Improvement is needed, but our choir does not need to be discouraged because the Spectator neatly builds a case against the choir using several erroneous facts which were added to large sweeping statements with false emphasis. I wish that in the future if the Spectator editors find it necessary to criticze although I must insist their present manner harmful, that they first find the facts, and having found the facts write an editorial which will improve and not merely serve as an outlet for would-be journalists.

We acknowledge factual inaccuracy: the choir appeared only twice in the Town Hall; invitations were solicited in the old days, too; the influence of Alec Woollcott was, and this we allowed quite purposely in our editoral last week, one of the most importaant factors in the reputation and financial success of the old choir. If we have created an inaccurate impression of the old choir, we are sincerely sorry.

To be completely honest, we are even willing to agree that the old choir may possibly have been just as bad as the present choir (although the above letter certainly offers no positive proof). However, this by no conceivable means invalidates our contention—and this was the point of the editorial—that the present choir has lacked emphasis on refinement and consequently has not offered the fullest possible enjoyment of the musical experience to its members, nor has it consistently been an inspiration in chapel, nor has it always been a good sample of Hamilton accomplishment for the public. In short we all seem agreed that improvement is needed...badly. Ed.

Recital Performed By Pianist F. Witzinger

Pianist Felix Witzinger gave a laudable performance in the College Chapel last Monday evening and executed a difficult program with grace and ease. After the program Witzinger played three encores, "The Girl with the Flaxen Hair," "Minstrels" and "Isle of Joy" by Debussy.

An attentive audience heard the "Sonata in E flat major" by Haydn and the "Studies for the Pianoforte" by Brahms in the first half of the program. The second half included works by Finney, Honegger and Chopin.

The SCA will present a showing of "Foreign Correspondent" tonight in the Chemistry Auditorium at 7:25. Admission is $ .35.

Allerlei

The search is on again. The following announcement was printed under Public Notices in the April 23rd issue of the New York Herald-Tribune:

"The Leavenworth Scholarship at Hamilton College, yielding annually $475, is now vacant. It is open for competition to all young men by the name of Leavenworth. Address inquiries to Mr. Sidney B. Bennett, Secretary of Admissions, Hamilton College, Clinton, New York."

The reason for publishing this "appeal" in a newspaper advertisement? Simply because the original scholarship grant specifies that the Leavenworth Scholarship be thus publicized.

Fraternity initiations were held or planned by three more of Hamilton's social fraternities.

Last Sunday afternoon, April 23rd, the members of Delta Upsilon initiated Freshman Richard Sherman into membership in their fraternity.

Tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, April 29th, the members of Lambda Chi Alpha will initiate into full membership pledges Douglas Johnson, '51, Augustus S. Knight, '53, and Donald W. Tappan, '53.

And last Tuesday evening, April 25th, Gustave Fischel III, '51, Robert W. Millspaugh, '52, and Derrone G. Hall, '53, were initiated into full membership in Alpha Chi fraternity. The members of Alpha Chi are anxiously waiting to learn if they will receive a charter grant from Delta Phi national social fraternity. The final decision on their application for a charter is to be rendered in the Annual Meeting of the National convening tomorrow afternoon at the University of Illinois.

Last Saturday afternoon, April 22nd, the members of the Emerson Literary Society sponsored a game party for approximately twenty youngsters from the St. Elizabeth's Children's Home in Utica. The affair was planned and expertly directed by Senior Charles Graf who was ably assisted by Social Chairman Robert Stern and Freshman Ralph Schoenstein. Following a "track meet" and a guided tour of the campus, the young guests were treated to a gay ice cream party at which a variety of toys were awarded as prizes to winners in the afternoon games.

We see that the faculty has voted to make the course on the Soviet Union a one-semester course next year, instead of continuing it as a full year course. Are we to infer from this action that the role of the U. S. S. R. in world politics has diminished by one-half during the past six months?

Continental Selects Robert F. Brown

Don Roscher, Editor af The Continental, has just announced the appointment of Robert F. Brown to the Literary Board of Hamilton's literary magazine. Roscher, speaking on behalf of all members of the Board, expressed the opinion that Brown, who is also co-Editor of The Gaboon, has one of the keenest critical minds functioning on College Hill today.

Students Investigating WHC See Reorganization Chances

By Stuart Robinson

With the fall of W.H.C. Hamilton College's radio voice became silent for what looked like a hopelessly indefinite period. Technical failures had caused a natural weakening of student interest; and it was no surprise that when in the spring of 1948 W.H.C. closed its doors, there was no burning desire on the part of the student body to change the status quo.

The fall of 1948 witnessed a definite change, for at that time three Hamilton men who were interested, got their heads together and mapped out a plan for once again having a radio station here at Hamilton. The chart of action was to investigate student interest, practicality and administrative approval, none of which existed at the time.

The student-interest campaign was launched with the operation of the illegal "baby net" radio station which served South and part of Middle Dorms. A whispering campaign did the rest, as was proved in the Fall of 1949 by a student opinion survey which showed 73 percent of the men in favor of having a station, and 46 percent of the student body favorable to the extent of yearly donations of $1.00.

By this time the ranks had added two new men, and the group went under the name "Hamilton Radio Organization." With Howard Brigham on programming, James Nickel on sports, Carl Hoefer on co ordination, Fred Stone on enginering, and Stuart Robinson on management, the second and third phases were entered. These covered on-the-spot investigations of W.N.E.-W. in New York City, W.R.U.-N.-F.M. in Utica, and radio stations of three colleges (Syracuse, Union, Hobart) Also, two colleges (Dartmouth, Amherst sent representatives from their stations here for conferences. A meeting was held with General Electric in Syracuse concerning F.M. for Hamilton. In these investigations, each of the men in the group absorbed know-how in his particular assignment; and gradually a file of notes, charts, plans, and correspondence accumulated. During the investigation, the organization maintained contact with the Federal Communications Commission, and with the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, both of whom were encouraging.

The administration was given a regular progress report, and finally, information was tabulated, and conclusions drawn. The organization had found: (1) Student interest present. (2) Radio station definitely practical, financially and otherwise, (3) the administration was encouraging. The time for a decision by the college was at hand, and the decision was made.

The results: A radio station practical and probable, but not for a few years. The administrative body deemed that Hamilton was not yet ready for the undertaking.

The Hamilton Radio Organization need no longer be a hush-hush group, for it has accomplished its work. We of that body do not feel that our efforts were useless. There now exists a source of information and plans of operation that will make the establishment of a station in the future almost assured. There will be another "Voice of College Hill."

Curriculum

present 15-16 course will be renumbered German 5-6. German 11-12 will be broadened in content, although not changed in character, and the emphasis in the 13-14 course will be shifted from a stress on philology and linguistics in the first semester to a stress on literature.

A new course in the Psychology department, to be offered only in 1950-51, a seminar study of selected topics and problems, is open to twelve seniors who have taken Psych 5-6. Dr. Max Schoen will teach this seminar.

Spanish 9-10, a new course entitled Spanish-American Literature, will alternate with Spanish 11-12. The prerequisite is 5-6, and the enrollment is limited. The course will be taught by Mr. Obletz.

Anthropology 15-16 and Economics 6 will also be changed next year. The laboratory work will be eliminated from the former, thus removing it from group C, and the latter will be renamed Government Regulation of Industry, with a corresponding broadening of content.

An explanation of Dixieland instrumentation was given by Alprin. In concluding, Fell told how the band progressed from a disorganized state to the well-knit unit it is today.

The five are hoping for a chance to play together this summer, but thus far have not been able to obtain any engagements. Anyone knowing of such opportunities is urged to contact any one of the members.

Junior Honor Society Chooses Silas Keehn

Si Keehn of Alpha Delta Phi became the fourth man selected for Was Los following the All-College meeting last Wednesday.

Keehn is vice-president of the class of '52, and was recently elected secretary of the Block H Club for the coming year. He is also vice-president of D. T. and a member of the Chapel Board.

From Scarsdale, N. Y., Keehn is a midfield star on the lacrosse team. He joins Bill Schwarz, Rog Wood, and Ted Mullett who were tapped after previous Wednesday meetings.

Baseball Team Host To Utica; Tony Sleggs To Pitch Opener

Power And Defense Seen Key To Success; Blue Plays Hobart At Geneva Wednesday

By Larry Rouillard
(Acting Sports Editor)

Concluding their third week of practice since the Spring trip, the Hamilton College baseball team will open its official ten-game season tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 against nearby Utica College on the Steuben diamond.

Wednesday, the Continentals journey to Geneva to play Hobart. The Statesmen, with St. John once again doing the pitching, dropped a 7-2 decision to Union last Saturday.

Wednesday afternoon, the baseball squad played in a lengthy scrimmage against Colgate at Hamilton. The Red Raiders won the game 6-0, but the pitching of the Continntal hurlers, Tony Sleggs, Dave Nadal, and Bill Galvin, showed improvement over previous outings. The fielding was good in support of the pitchers, but the hitting which had been the high-light of the training season, fell off. This can be attributed largely to a little tenseness at the plate.

Sleggs To Pitch

Coach Greg Batt of the Hill nine announced today that left-handed Tony Sleggs would be the starting hurler in tomorrow's game. Freshman Don Grant will probably handle the slants of the southpaw who notched the Blue's lone win of the Spring trip against Drew.

The four infield positions will be handled by four veterans. Frisbee Fuller, converted catcher, will play first base. Dave Porter will be at second base and leadoff in the batting order. Rog Wood, hard-hitting shortstop, will team with Porter in the double play. Captain Jerry Steiner will be stationed at the "hot corner."

McKeldin Set

Only left field is definite in the outfield. Stu McKeldin, switched from the infield to the outfield, will be in left, and due to his harsh slugging in practice, will be the cleanup hitter.

The center and right field slots will go to either Al Persons, Dick Norcross, or Marty Fribush. Norcross and Fribush are left-handed power hitters while speedy Persons is right-handed.

Dave Nadal, Jim Brown, Dave Davis, and Jan Conant will be available for relief pitching, if needed. Bill Galvin, who can play the outfield and first base, and Harry Babcock, utility in-

Along the Sidelines

By Jack Banks

Let's face the facts: the maintenance of the training rules at Hamilton lately has been a farce.

The situation has gotten so that nowadays the average Hamilton athlete rarely thinks twice before breaking a training regulation. After the hockey scandal of a little over a year ago it appeared as if at long last the training rules were going to be enforced. The "Athletic Honor Court," set up to try athletes, seemed to be the answer, and training rules for all the teams were posted so that students might get acquainted with them.

Although no violators were ever turned in, and the training rules were subsequently taken down from the bulletin boards, the fact still remains that today there are many athletes on the Hill who pay little, if any, attention to training regulations.

Probably the most notable offender is a potentially fine football player. However, just about the only time this person was able to attend football practice was when he cut enough classes to sleep off the effects of his hell-raising escapades of the night before.

And I wonder if the baseball team is going to make Livingston's its headquarters after practices this spring as they did last? Of course, they are entitled to the luxuries offered at the aforementioned establishment, especially when a few of the older players think nothing of drinking in public.

Perhaps our athletes don't realize that training rules are set down for a purpose: when two evenly matched teams face each other, nine times out of ten, the team in better condition will come out victorious.

The spring sports program gets into full swing this weekend, and with it comes into effect a new approach of observing the training rules. The new system, which calls for closer contact between coach and player, and between the players themselves, could be the solution to the training problem.

However, if the players do not prove responsible enough to live up to the training standards they have set for themselves and thus show that they do not want to take sports seriously, then Hamilton might just as well decide that it's time to drop intercollegiate athletics.

Track Team To Open At Schenectady Meeting Weakened Garnet Tomorrow

By Phil Robinson

Hamilton College's track team raises the curtain on the 1950 season with a meet at Schenctady tomorrow against an arch-rival squad from Union.

Although the Blue is weakened seriously in the field events by the loss of Schmidt, Langa, and Squier, Coach Peter Dugan feels that greatly increased strength on the cinder path makes the outlook for a Hamilton victory considerably brighter than it was a year ago.

Union, however, will field a squad which has been hit hard by graduation. Of the thin-clads who harrassed the Blue last year, only three men will return Saturday.

Sprints Strong

The sprints are the best fortified of all the events on the card. Co-captain Dave Palmer, John Payne, Joe Maycock, and Gerry Gard provide a pool of good material for the 100 and 220. Palmer posted the best time in the 100, 10.1, last year and finished as highest scorer in the track events.

In the 440, Irving Reid will try to make a successful debut in the Hamilton uniform. Coach Dugan has hopes that he can make a clean sweep of victories in the quarter-mile this year and even clip a shade off his high school record of :51.8.

Although the 880 is undecided, it looks like Ben Patton and Dave Hastings in the mile. They finished in 1-2 order Monday in the inter-fraternity meet.

Heinig Doubtful

Shifting to the field events, the Blue will rely on John Egner and Ed Collins to put the shot.

Golf And Tennis Squads Begin Schedules Today; Golfers Face Engineers Tomorrow

Both the tennis and golf teams held their inaugurals this afternoon aganist Utica College. The tennis squad performed on the Utica College courts, and the golfers played the 18-hole course at Twin Ponds in Utica.

Tomorrow, Coach Don Jones' golf squad faces RPI in a match originally scheduled for last Saturday. On Wednesday, both teams tangle with Hobart at Geneva in the first of the home-and-home series with the Statesmen.

Despite the loss of Don Gregory and Bert Wright, the golf team has five experienced men in Captain Tom Gregory, Bob Mackay, Bill Luers, Gordie Burton, and Clint Emery, who filled in capably for Don Gregory on occasions last year. Don Williams and Obie Bailey are contenders for the sixth slot on the squad which practiced against Syracuse last Tuesday.

The tennis team, having worked out against the Utica YMCA netmen last Saturday, is paced by four lettermen: Captain Bill Cooper, Jack Banks, Pete Grimm, and Larry Wilson. The other two starting slots vacated by Randy Ward and Harry Bates, are open to Howie Brigham, Clarence Dunn, Bill Meservey, Don Pollock, Bill Carmen, and Hans Ullstein.

Both the Junior Varsity golf and tennis teams will match strokes tomorrow afternoon against Manlius Prep School at Manlius.

All Seniors should place their orders for caps and gowns with the College Store by May 1.

Well Conditioned Blue Team Outlasts RPI Lacrosse JV's

Coach And Co-Captains Play Large Part In Early Success

By Jim Scott

If Hamilton, only unofficial intercollegiate sport enjoys continued success this spring it will be largely due to the efforts of three men, Coach John Panatier and Co-Captains Jim Sontheimer and Bill Wilson. The locals came out on top in their first major test with the highly rated RPI JV last weekend, and according to Coach Panatier. Hamilton was represented by an eager and enthusiastic squad which made up in agressiveness what it may lack in experience."

Although last year's service as team trainer was Coach Panatier's introduction to lacrosse, he has been coaching and playing other sports for many years. Following his 1941 graduation from Springfield College where he played baseball and basketball, Panatier joined the army as a private. During his 4½ years, service, he attended Officers' Candidate School and became an athletic and recreational officer. Panatier went to Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont to coach basketball and golf after the war. He joined the Hamilton athletic staff in 1948 and lives on the Hill with his attractive wife and two-year old daughter.

Salesman Wilson

Known chiefly for his role of super salesman for various campus enterprises, Bill Wilson has led the lacrosse team from his attack position for the past two years. Bill never played lacrosse until he entered Sampson College four years ago and there learned the goalie position. When he transferred to Hamilton the next fall, he switched to the front line. A native of Niagara Falls, Bill's sporting activities at Niagara Falls High School included membership on the swimming team. Currently teaching a history class at Clinton High School, Bill is planning to enter the field of secondary school education after his Hamilton graduation and a few years at the University of Pennsylvania School of Education. Besides guiding the destinies of this year's Winter Carnival, Bill is chairman of the Honor Court and a member of Emerson Literary Society.

Win First Match In 2 Overtimes

By Jim Nickel

Coach John Panatier's forte is conditioning, and conditioning was the deciding factor in the lacrosse club's 11-7 victory over the RPI JV's Saturday afternoon.

R. P. I., with all its reserves (they used 35 men, and fielded four midfields) was no match in the late minutes for the strong Continentals. Bill Wilson broke the deadlock in the first overtime period, and Jim Sontheimer, with two, and Charlie Reach with one goal, closed the door in the second extra period.

Reach and Sonthenmer led the scoring for the afternoon with four goals each. Bill Wilson, their mate on the first attack line, which excelled all afternoon, bagged two more. Chuck Miller also netted one goal. It was an overpowering Blue attack that had Rensselear panting. The phenomenal R. P. I. goalie, Carl Winkler, was forced to make 32 saves, to C. A. Griffiths' six. In all, Hamilton made 11 out of 59 shots, while the visitors connected for 7 out of 20.

First Line Excels

The attack men, especially the first line, pleased Coach Panatier. They kept the ball in enemy territory an estimated 75% of the time, and would have doubled their output, but for the spectacular saves of the R.P.I. goal tender.

Defense was ragged, especially in the fourth quarter, but it will be improved before the next game. As usual, Ric Miller bolstered the rear wall. He was the only man on the field to play the whole game, plus the two overtimes.

Blue Offensive Plays Effective In St. Lawrence Scrimmage

It was like a typical Fall afternoon, and a handful of grid enthusiasts was treated to a long afternoon of interesting football out on Steuben Field, Saturday. The first half of a home-and-home Spring training series, the brainchild of Coach Don Jones, paid off for both St. Lawrence and Hamilton experience.

Up at St. Lawrence, authorities are claiming that the 1950 eleven will be one of the best in the Larries' history. Coach Patton's team lost to Union, 26-19, last fall, and all indications are for a change next fall.

As was expected, St. Lawrence was the best club on the field. Their backfield was strong, the line tough. Patton kept his offense strictly on the ground, where it was only occasionally stopped.

Plunges Effective

Hamilton, against this bigger, more experienced club, performed well. The Blue scored five touchdowns, to eight for the visitors. Once again, it was the offense that showed well, especially up the middle. Patton threw up a six-man line to limit the deadly Hamilton end-sweeps and trailer-pass plays, but the Larries line could not contain the Hamilton cross-bucks into the center of the line. Harry Thornton looked especially fine at fullback.

An interesting development was the good showing of Ronnie Seaman at quarterback. Out for football for the first time, the freshman showed great ability in leading the club on its best drive of the afternoon. Other frosh to show up well were Bob Hendel, John Bragdon, Ralph Rogers, and Jim Farmer. Veterans Norb Matzinger and Bob Fry also stood out.

The squad when it reports early next September, had better be ready for plenty of tackling and downfield blocking practice, according to Coach Jones. High tackling and off balance lunges on the part of the Blue defenders made work easy for the big, fast St. Lawrence backs. Hamilton line play, against bigger St. Lawrence players, was fair.

Coach Jones was without the services of Don Robertson, Jim Lenox, Al Persons and Dick Freytag for the scrimmage. With the return of these men, plus the addition of next year's freshmen, prospects for a winning season are improving.

Lacrosse

in the second overtime was the high point of the afternoon. Wilson passed from behind the cage, out into the center of the goal mouth. Reach dove for the pass, pulled it down, and fired it home, low and hard in one lightning motion.

The Blue meets Cortland State Teacher's College Tuesday, May 2, at 4:30 here, in the first of a home-and-home series.

Track

The discus and javelin are in question, with Jake Heinig a possibility for the later if a sore arm mends by Saturday.

Co-captain Clair Babcock will lead Hamilton in the broad jump along with Wheeler. Carl Brandt will go after points in the high jump, while Randall, George Moffat, and John Henderson will take the big jump-up and over the bar in the pole vault.

Rouillard Elected Intramural Chairman

At the Intramural Council meeting Wednesday, Larry Rouillard was elected Chairman succeeding Ronnie Berg for next year.

Psi U, with plenty of depth and balance, captured the Interfraternity Track Meet title Monday by polling 46⅞ points as compared to 39½ for runner-up Theta Delt.

Tuesday, the softball league opened with Lambda Chi defeating Alpha Delt, 9-6, behind Fred Jobe's pitching and Curt Brown's hitting. ELS trounced Psi U, 10-1. Wednesday, the Sigs, scoring 6 runs late in the game, beat Squires, 7-2, while Deke edged Teke, 7-6. Theta Delt won a forfeit over Chi Psi.

Yesterday, ELS upset the 1949 champs, Lambda Chi, 3-2 as "Stormy" Pohl outpitched Jobe. Pohl won his own game with a bases-loaded double in the seventh inning. DU walloped Alpha Delt, 10-3, with Jim Aitchison hitting three triples.

IRC Hears Norberg, Of State Department, Sunday Afternoon

Charles Norberg, an official in the State Department, will speak on "The Shaping of American Foreign Policy" in a meeting of the International Relations Club this Sunday afternoon at 4:30 P. M. at Alpha Delta Phi Hall. The College community is invited.

Having recently returned from a State Department trip through several South Amrican countries, Mr. Norberg has also travelled extensively throughout Europe and Asiatic Russia.

During the recent war, Mr. Norgerg served in the China-Burma-India Theater, and achieved the rank of major in the Air Intelligence. After the war, he was a member of the Central Intelligence, before assuming his present position with the State Department.

Mr. Norberg has received an engineering degree from Cornell and a law degree from Harvard Law School. He has also studied at the University of Grenoble in France.

Theory Of Ordered Universe Shaken By Ristine's Absence

The last vestige of an ordered universe, as manifested on Hamilton's campus, was obliterated last Monday, April 24th.

The "perfect attendence" record compiled by Professor Frank H. Ristine throughout his many years as the Hamilton B. Tompkins Professor of English Literature at Hamilton is now almost legendary. On the subject of class attendence, "Dean" Ristine has often been heard to remark, "At the present cost of tuition at Hamilton, each student pays approximately $1 for each class session. Elsewhere, he would not think of paying that price of admission and then not attend. Nor would a lecturer dare charge such a price and them not make his appearance."

Thus the odds against anything happening which might conceivably cause Professor Ristine to miss a class and give his students a "free cut" are somewhat higher than those against the possibility that the sun might not rise tomorrow. That is to say they were before last Monday.

But on that fateful day, a sudden attack of Grippe forced Professor Ristine to remain at home, unable to meet with his classes. An announcement to this affect, when made to the first class scheduled to meet with Professor Ristine on that day, waas greeted with loud guffaws and shouts of, "Some joke!,, or "No such luck!" Upon being persuaded of the truth in the matter, however, members of this class stood for seconds (not many, to be sure) in stunned silence, mouths agape. The looks of amazement, disbelief and incredulity, plainly perceivable on their faces, could not have been produced by any other "miracle" short of the announcement that Hamilton had "gone co-ed."

With considerable effort, these bewildered "Lit" students soon regained some of their composure. Then like a shot, propelled partly by their delight in an unexpected freedom to bask in the warm Spring sunshine and partly by their urge to spread the miraculous tale, they bolted down the stairs and out of Root Hall, excitedly blurting the news to all whom they encountered. The reaction to this "miracle" was everywhere the same—incredulity, bewilderment and fidgety speculation about the snares of a now totally unpredictable existence.

A little later in the same day, these men, displaying the Hamilton man's traditional ability to courageously face fact and reality, transferred their speculations to a more practical plane. —the possibility of "free cuts" all week long!

Perish the though! True, Professor Ristine required the remainder of the week to recover from his illness, but he would not agree to take this time away from classes unless some other Professor would meet with them in his stead. Well, this was easily arranged, his classes were resumed, and soon the Community slid smoothly back into blissful normality.

Nevertheless, Hamilton's traditional faith in an ordered universe remains badly, perhaps irreparably shaken.

The Camera Club will meet at 7:45 p. m. on Wednesday, May 3rd. in Silliman Hall. Of special interest to all Hill camera fans will be the critical discussion of a set of "masterpieces" by internationally known photographers.
